Antioch Girl Killed By Car

Bonita (Bonnie) Allan, 13 years old, of Bluff Lake Lodge near Antioch, was killed last Wednesday, Dec. 14, when she was struck by a car at Rena and Grass Lake Road.

Bonnie reportedly got out of a car and started to run across the road when the car struck her. The accident happened about 4 p.m. She was returning home from school.

The car that struck Miss Allan was driven by Mrs. Mary J. Pennel, 3, of Rt. 1, Antioch. She said the girl dashed from behind the car parked on the roadside, and she was unable to stop the car in time.

Bonnie Allan was born April 9, 1953 in Chicago, but had lived in Antioch all her life. She was a member of the United Protestant Church at Grayslake and was an 8th grade student at Grass Lake School.

She is survived by her parents, George R. and Audrey Allan; two sisters, Laura and Christine, both at home; her maternal grandparents, Evelyn and Edward Norwick, Lake Villa; her paternal grandparents, Tillie and George Allan, Antioch; and her maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Loscombe, Maywood.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch. The Rev. Draper H. Bishop of the United Protestant Church of Grayslake officiated. Interment was in Grass Lake Cemetery.

Santa Claus was on hand to greet his little friends in the lobby of the Antioch Theater last Saturday when the Antioch American Legion Post 748 hosted children of the area at a free movie.

Board Gets Bids On New Fire Truck

The village board Tuesday night opened bids on a new fire truck. Bids received were from Olson Implement, on the chassis alone, $6,900; Peter Persch Co., $15,980 for the pumper and miscellaneous equipment, $7,461 on the chassis; W. S. Darling, $10,504 on the pumper; Great Lakes Fire Equipment Co., $17,595 on the pumper; Pedersen Bros., chassis, $7,070.

The bids were turned over to the committee for study, and recommendation of the winning bid will be made at the next board meeting.

Village treasurer Martha Hunter was given permission to re-invest $30,000 of sewerage funds in Savings Certificates at the Antioch Savings & Loan at 5 1/4% interest, and to re-invest funds at the First National Bank maturing on Jan. 1, 1967.

The board finally agreed to accept the Willowdale Dairy bid of $25 for propion on which the Dairy is located, but with provisions. Attorney Edward Jacobs reported that Sam Lerner, owner of Willowdale Dairy, had turned over to him Treasury bills in the amount of $6,000 to guarantee the expense of installing a water main to the Dairy.

Engineer Frank Angelotti said the amount was enough to cover installation of the main, to be installed by September 1, 1967.

The bid was made to clear up the title of land belonging to the dairy. Property on which a portion of the dairy stands was found to belong to the village, but early descriptions and property lines were hazy, according to Attorney Jacobs.

The clerk and Mayor Ray

Toft were instructed to sign the deed conveying the property to Willowdale.

STREET EXCAVATING ORDINANCE

A new street excavating ordinance was approved by the board, voiding the one approved at the last meeting. The new ordinance provides that public utilities need not obtain a permit for excavating work, in view of their franchise.

The revision was made after protests from public utilities, pointing out that they had a 50 year franchise with the village, and that they always restored streets and parkways to good condition.

LITTER PROBLEM

Mayor Ray Toft said he had several complaints that discarded boxes and paper from business establishments were blowing on to adjoining property and littering the streets. After discussion the board decided to send letters to all business houses in Antioch, requesting that paper, etc. be kept either in wire cages or covered garbage cans.

SEWER HOOK-UPS

Clerk Clarence Shultis reported that three property owners of the seven in Oakwood Knolls who have made no provision for sewer hook-ups, had responded to the most recent letter.

One owner had not previously been reached, and agreed to pay the hook-up fee. One piece of property was in process of foreclosure, and the foreclosing agent said fees would be paid as soon as the deed was received.

The third owner reported that illness had prevented him from paying the fee, and he offered to arrange payments.

ZONING CHANGES

The board approved two amendments to the zoning ordinance, incorporating changes made after zoning hearings.

The board approved an application for $9,017 for snow removal in 1967, to be paid from motor fuel tax funds held by the state.

Four Hurt In Crash

Norma Heimbrodt, 19, of Rt. 2, Antioch, was one of four persons injured in a three-car collision on Route 173 at Channel Lake Saturday night.

Miss Heimbrodt was reportedly going home from work at about 6:30 p.m. As she prepared to turn right into Lake Ave., an eastbound car crossed the center line and struck the Heimbrodt car. A car behind Miss Heimbrodt, driven by Kenneth W. Thomszewski of Chicago, was unable to stop and hit the Heimbrodt car in the rear.

The eastbound car was driven by Mrs. Jane Moen of State Line Road, Zion. Her husband, Dana, Glenn Wright of Zion, a passenger in the Moen car, Mrs. Moen and Miss Heimbrodt were taken to Zion Benton Hospital.

Mrs. Moen was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road. Miss Heimbrodt suffered cuts on the knees and had several teeth knocked loose.

All three choirs will sing at the 11 a.m. Christmas Day service at the Community Methodist Church.

At the Evangelical Free Church on Tiffany Road a special program will be given Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock. The Sunday School will present the program, "Open the strom, Rebekah Rysko, Nikki Nissen, Marge Madsen and Donna Motley. Their escorts will be Stan Horton, Dick Vitek, Chuck Bista, Tim Osmond and Allen Osterlund.

The office will also be closed Saturday, Dec. 31, and Monday, Jan. 2, because of New Year's.

Legion Hosts 300 Children

The Antioch American Legion Post No. 748 entertained over 300 children at free movies at the Antioch Theater last Saturday.

Last year, about 160 children took advantage of the Legion's Christmas party.

Seven Legionnaires and Santa Claus were in the theatre lobby to dispense free popcorn to the kids. Legionnaires who helped to make the day a success were Douglas Dean, Bernie DeVries, Alex Hoggman, Andrew Katenik, Commander Bernie Stadick, George Ott and Dave Kuiken.

Two cartoons were shown, plus "Lassie's Great Adventure."

Legionnaire Dave Kuiken hands out popcorn to children attending the free movie sponsored by the Antioch American Legion Post 748 last Saturday.

Christmas Mail Heavy But All's Well, Says P.M.

"Thank you." That's the comment today from Postmaster Joe Wolf.

"The people of Antioch co-operated magnificently and we have had the best Christmas season ever. It now appears that every piece of mail that entered the post office by last night (Wednesday) will be delivered before Christmas Eve. There will be no backlog of holiday mail still to be delivered Christmas Day," the Postmaster said.

Saturday was the busiest day in the post office during the pre-Christmas rush. An estimated 40,000 pieces of outgoing mail were handled by post office workers. More than 30,000 stamps were sold.

According to postal officials Saturday was the busiest day since the Post Office Department moved in the present building in 1961.

"The use of ZIP Code and a pattern of early mailing helped us move more mail with greater efficiency than ever before," the Postmaster commented. "Without the excellent public response we would not have been able to do the job alone."

It is estimated that over 1,000,000 pieces of outgoing and incoming mail was handled by the Antioch Post Office plus 1600 sacks of parcel post during the Christmas season.

"I want to thank each and every one of the Postal employees for their tireless effort in the efficiency used in moving this vast amount of mail," Wolf said, "and may I extend to each and every one of my employees and their families a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

GI Hopes For Return of Lost Money

It'll be a skimpy Christmas for an Antioch area GI home on leave, and his family, unless an honest person found his wife's lost purse.

Mrs. Jack Woolner lost her purse on Lake Ave. at Channel Lake Tuesday morning. Retracing their route, the Woolners found the contents of her purse scattered on the roadside—everything except the purse itself and

The Woolners are here visiting both their parents. They hadn't done their Christmas shopping. They have three children, 6 years, 4, and 1.

The Woolners left their parents' home at Channel Lake to drive to Trevor to visit her parents Tuesday morning. Mrs. Woolner placed her purse on top of the car while she lifted the baby in, and forgot to retrieve her purse.

She didn't miss her purse until they had visited with her parents a short time. Then they drove back over their route. They found the contents of the purse near the north Channel Lake bridge.

The missing envelope containing the cash was from the First National Bank of Homestead. Jack is stationed at the Homestead Air Force Base. The lost purse is a small black clutch purse. The Woolners are offering a reward for the return of their cash. And hoping that their Christmas fund will be returned.

1,800 Children Photographed With Santa Claus

The pictures with Santa Claus program at the State Bank of Antioch concluded last Saturday, with an estimated 1,800 children having been photographed with Santa.

This is the seventh year the State Bank has provided free polaroid pictures of children with Santa Claus to parents. The number of children photographed each year increases every Christmas, according to bank officials.

Many parents take advantage of the opportunity to keep a yearly record of their children, with a picture each Christmas.

Stop The Slaughter

Sheriff Harold Scheskie has promised stiff enforcement of traffic laws. Let's hope he means it.

Lake County has broken all previous records for traffic deaths this year. Strict enforcement of the law probably wouldn't have prevented all of them, but it certainly would have reduced the number.

On a trip to Waukegan last week, in a distance of about eighteen miles, we spotted six instances of flagrant breaking of traffic laws, all of them highly potential accident-causers. Two were committed by the same driver, passing twice in no-passing zones.

We know police can't be everywhere. But habitual breakers of traffic laws are bound to come to the attention of squad cars occasionally. If they're ticketed each time, and if stiff fines are handed out by the judge, the reckless driver is bound to be more careful. If he isn't, he'll lose his license. If he can't drive, he can't kill anyone in a traffic accident.

Drivers are more careful in an area where they know traffic laws are rigidly enforced. Witness the reputation speedily acquired by towns tabbed as "speed traps".

Something must be done to stop the rising traffic fatality rate. Police, judges, and the public are going to have to stop feeling sorry for the man who pleads he can't earn a living if he loses his license, or he has no money to pay a fine. An auto is a deadly weapon. There is no remission of sentence, no suspension of fine, for the victim of the careless driver.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

It is customary to extend Season's Greetings and exchange gifts at this time of the year and if I were Santa Claus I would bring an end to speculation about the identity of the chief deputy sheriff to be named some day by Sheriff Harold Scheskie . . . and I would bring the nomination to Chief Investigator Jake Repp and have done with it . . . to County Treasurer Ray Sheahan there would go a chief deputy who was qualified to hold the post and would be ready to step in as the office candidate four years hence . . . for former Sheriff Charles Larson there would be an assignment by the present sheriff commensurate with his Captain's rank and his ability and experience as a police officer instead of exile as a magistrate's court bailiff . . . for County Recorder Frank Nustra the stocking hung by the chimney would hold recognition locally for the many fine improvements he has made in the Recorder's office, programs which have earned him plaudits in other areas.

A compassionate Santa Claus would see that County Purchasing Agent Wesley Koehler was given a berth in next year's Super Pro Bowl Game for his beloved Chicago Bears. . . . County Highway Superintendent Mel Anstutz should get stacks of money with which to carry out the ambitious and needed highway program he has espoused.

If there really is a Santa Claus he will provide an opening on the Supreme Court bench for Appellate Judge Tom Moran who has languished in his present post for two years. . . . A concert of party harmony would be caroled at the door of Republican Party Chairman Robert J. Milton and Democratic Party Chief Robert Haubrich should receive an abundance of election issues with a group of candidates willing to speak out on the issues. . . . For Waukegan Supervisor August Cepcon a replacement on his township slate for Assistant Supervisor Taisto Aho and for Aho completion of the new county administration building somewhere near schedule.

State Representative W. J. Murphy would probably be willing to settle for re-instatement as Republican Majority Leader and Chairman of the Budgetary Commission while Representative John Matijevich will be grateful for guidance through the legislative maze in his first term in Springfield. . . . State Senator Robert Coulson would receive some effective support for his effort to bring a college to Lake County and the junior college group should find a new campus bulging in their stockings. . . . A sympathetic Santa Claus would scurry through Lake County tearing down old campaign posters for the sake of Warren Supervisor Bob Depke and Avon Supervisor Norm Geary is deserving of a new lance for tilting his county board windmills. . . . For Imogene Cashmore franking privileges similar to a Congressman's so she can continue her letter-writing campaign and for ACT spokesman Robert Bowman a little understanding and compassion from county officials and the press. . . .

A new four year term as Supervisor and a second term as County Board Chairman should adorn the mantle of Antioch Supervisor Red Murrie.

Success in his new venture as a "private eye" should be the lot of former County Coroner Mickey Babcox and if we were Santa Claus a return to good health for former County Clerk Gar Leaf so he and his Charlotte can enjoy his retirement. . . . And to the world we would bring Peace with Honor, Dignity and Freedom for all men and a new acceptance and recognition of the ideals and principles espoused by Him whose Birth we celebrate on Sunday.

Merry Christmas to all.

By Pearl Kapell

The Redcoats are coming! Not the ones Paul Revere referred to. The 1966 brand of Redcoats are coaches and members of the faculty at Antioch Community High School.

If you've attended the basketball games at Antioch High School, you've probably noticed the bright red blazers worn by the coaches and some of the faculty. It's a "school spirit" gimmick, started by the coaches and adopted by other faculty members.

Incidentally, if you haven't attended a basketball game at the high school, better plan to take in one soon. In fact, you'd better plan on seeing two. You'll probably spend most of the first game watching Ty Walls' effortless efficiency. After a while, it'll dawn on you that there's a very good team out there with Ty, and a good supply of very competent players in reserve on the bench.

Another matter of note on this topnotch Sequoia team we have this year is the excellent condition of the boys. These kids can tear up and down the floor through a speedy quarter and come up to the free throw line apparently not even breathing hard. We noted particularly that when they played Lake Zurich, some of the Sequoia's opponents were panting so hard that it interfered with their aim.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TOWN: And lots of little boys and girls are waiting breathlessly for the big day.

Lots of unhappy fathers and grandfathers will spend a good share of the night before Christmas assembling elaborate toys. Remarked one grandfather who had just purchased a vacuum cleaner, toy variety, and was trying to assemble it, "You don't buy toys any more, you buy pieces."

Of course, some of the holes are usually drilled just slightly out of line, so that you can't possibly get the thing together right without drilling new ones. Or you won't have the right size or kind of screw driver. Or you'll get it all together and discover you have something backwards and you'll have to take the whole thing apart.

Then, of course, there's the battery operated toy. That's the little item you're sure to forget in the rush of Christmas shopping. Does seem as though some company could make a fortune by including them with the toy.

Personally, I'm a firm believer in Santa Claus, but he does seem to be unable to deliver on a couple of my wishes. I'd like a 48-hour day for the day before Christmas, 36 hours of it coming during the evening hours. Also a special vitamin pill that would carry me through those extra hours without tiring.

Ditto for Christmas Day, except he can spread the 48 hours out throughout the day. That way, I can see everyone I'd like to wish a Merry Christmas and still have plenty of time at home with the family. And a repeat on the vitamin pill.

And I'd like to look forward to Christmas dinner with the anticipation I enjoyed at ten years of age, and enjoy it as much.

Come to think of it, Santa delivers these pleasures to most children automatically. The day before Christmas is 48 hours long for them.

Well, anyway,

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS IN VIET NAM

It was the night before Christmas and all thru the tent The odor of rice paddies seeped through the vent. The helmets were hung by the tent poles with care, While visions of sugar babes hung in the air. When out on the front line I heard such a clatter, A VC machine gun started to chatter. I rushed to my rifle and threw back the bolt. While the rest of the Platoon awoke with a jolt. Outside I could hear our Platoon Sergeant, Mac A fat little man With a crick in his back.

Up Yancey, up Clancy, up Conner and Watson Come Miller, come Shiller Come Baker and Dobson. We rushed to our posts in a world of confusion, So hal—each man could use a transfusion. "Get out on that line and silence that Red.

And, don't come back till you're sure that he's dead."

Then, putting a finger in front of his nose, He bid a good night to us sweating Joes; He said in a voice all soft and light, MERRY CHRISTMAS to all, and may you live thru the night.

DEATH NOTICES

MRS. RUTH FOX
Mrs. Ruth Fox, 67 years old, of 15 Second Street in Rosings' Subdivision near Antioch, passed away Thursday, Dec. 15 at 3:30 p.m. in the home of her daughter, Miss Narcissus Donovan, after a lingering illness.

Teens Join Dimes March

"Blue Crutch Day" will be launched by more than 20 Antioch teens on Saturday, January 7.

The teens have volunteered to sell the metal crutch lapel emblems to aid the March of Dimes program of research and comprehensive treatment for more than 250,000 yearly birth defect victims.

Leading the activity is the Student Council of Antioch High School and their sponsor, Harrison Brown.

"Our teens are channeling their energy and enthusiasm into a really worthwhile organization," Mr. Brown said. "Their participation in the March of Dimes activities demonstrates both concern for others and their responsibility as community members."

One council member commented, "We want to have a hand in shaping a healthy tomorrow for birth defect victims. Most of us have neither seen the suffering nor felt the impact of birth defects, but within ten years we'll be parents, and we would like to see those ten years improve the chance for a healthy birth."

Abner Brings Cold Wave

Near zero temperatures recorded throughout northern Illinois heralded the arrival of "Cold Spell Abner."

"Abner," the first cold wave of the 1966-67 heating season, arrived just after midnight on December 1 and stayed until Dec. 3.

The official "cold spell," according to Northern Illinois Gas Company, is when temperatures at the NI-Gas monitoring station stay below 20 degrees Fahrenheit for at least 48 hours. The utility labels cold spells with men's names — out of respect for its many women customers.

NI-Gas distributed 3.2 billion cubic feet of natural gas to its 940,000 customers during "Abner's" visit.

ous work that PM&L has ever undertaken.

A theatre workshop has also been created by several enthusiastic PM&L members. Quoting Steve Krotz who is in charge of the workshop, "A workshop is, in effect, a training ground. A place where you can gain experience and learn more about your specific interest in the realm of the theatre."

Steve will be directing the first workshop production "The Death of a Hired Man" by Robert Frost. Anyone interested in joining the theatre workshop or in finding more about it should contact Steve Krotz (356-2463), Dr. Albert Bucar (395-4091), or Wisconsin residents Florence Babusek (414-889-4626).

Salem Central Faculty Forms New Association

The faculty of Central High School, Salem, Wisconsin, met early last month and formed a new professional educational group. In a meeting under the temporary chairmanship of Geoffrey Watson, the group chose, as its official name, the "Salem Central Educational Association" and adopted a constitution which pledged itself to the ideals of the advancement of its school and its community, as well as the welfare of its membership.

On the same evening, immediately after the close of its deliberations on the constitution, an organizational meeting was convened. Roger Bongard was elected president and presided over the election of Geoffrey Watson, vice-president, Mrs. Ruth Merrill, secretary, and Emroy Heyse, treasurer. Standing committees were chosen.

One of these was the salary committee who met subsequently with the Board of Education and concluded a formal agreement in which the new association was recognized as the official bargaining agent for the teachers.

The agreement also stated the board's intention to enter into bargaining, a process which is presently going on.

Commenting on the purposes of the new association, president Bongard said, "We are all excited about the possibilities of this organization. We are a closely knit group but the associations will give us direction in our efforts to better our school which we have not had before. About eighty per cent of our membership has been back in school in the past two years to take courses to increase our skills... but this kind of thing works for the individual. We need group action... to help the school, to engaged in community projects, and, of course, to watch over the welfare of our members."

He stated further that he was very pleased with the cordiality of the board of education's reaction to the association's application to be recognized as the bargaining agent for the teachers. "The teachers feel," he added, "that since the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board has recognized the legal correctness of such negotiations that this is the kind of thing we should be doing. And now there's more enthusiasm than ever for the activities of the association and the projects it has in mind."

MYF Busy Making Christmas Happy

The young people who are active in the Methodist Youth Fellowship at the Antioch Methodist Church are very busy this Christmas season with projects to make life a little happier for the less fortunate.

The MYF members have adopted a 14 year old deaf Chinese boy whom they will support for a year; they have arranged to sing carols in the Belvidere Mall Dec. 22, and are working on food boxes to distribute to needy families in the Antioch area.

The young people have "adopted" Lo Yuk Ming through the offices of the Christian Children's Fund. Lo Yuk Ming lives in Kowloon, one of eleven children in his family.

Children adopted for support are usually orphans. However, Lo Yuk Ming, a member of a poor family of many children, is deaf. He has had little schooling because of his handicap and is now in 4th grade.

Money provided by the young people of the MYF will make it possible for him to attend a special school, feed him, and provide him with the essentials and a few of the extras of living.

The young people take up a collection at each meeting to meet their obligation of $10 a month for Lo Yuk Ming. However, it is hard to keep up with their pledge.

Caroling in the Belvidere Mall will give their fund a boost, as they'll get a $25 donation for their efforts. They'll be there at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 22.

In addition, the young people packed Christmas boxes for distribution to needy people last Thursday. They have been bringing canned food for the boxes to each meeting since Halloween and collected part of the contents of the boxes from helpful Antioch merchants.

The young people will supply Christmas cheer for three families, totaling 17 children, and two single ladies. The names of the families needing Christmas cheer were provided by Mrs. Heult of the Lake County Welfare Department to Mr. and Mrs.

VFW Auxiliary Votes Holiday Contributions

The Ladies Auxiliary of the V.F.W. brought some happiness to the men at the Lake Villa Nursing home Nov. 23 by delivering baskets of fruit, candy, pipe tobacco, etc., to them. Mrs. Olive Hallwas and Mrs. Myra Randall were chairmen for the project. Money for the baskets came from selling old newspapers.

The V.F.W. Auxiliary donates each year to the Antioch Rescue Squad, the Fire Dept., the Heart and Cancer Funds, the V.F.W. National Home, an annual pledge of $120 for canteen books for Downey Hospital and a $50 District Hospital pledge.

At the Dec. 12 meeting, V.F.W. Auxiliary members voted to make donations to the Gift to Yanks fund, the Downey Christmas party, baskets for needy families and clothing for children of a veteran.

Auxiliary members approved a vote of thanks to all who contributed to the Buddy Poppy drive. The proceeds from this drive finance their donations to those in need.

Village officials have parking permits that are available to residents of apartments on the west side of Main St. bordering the recently improved parking area behind the stores.

As usual, trouble has been encountered in keeping the area free for parking for shopping. Cars are left in the lot all day by people who work in the area.

The permits are stickers for the car windows. Trustee Vern Barnstable said apartment residents are entitled to parking privileges near the building, and they may get the permits by applying at the Antioch Police Station.

Sequoits Win Over Grant, Take Possession 1st Place

Before wildly cheering crowds of fans for both teams, the Sequoits kept their unbeaten record through last Friday night's basketball game at Grant, and won 52-46.

The game was close throughout, with Antioch managing to keep a few points in the lead most of the evening. The score was tied 15-15 at the end of the first quarter, and again at the half, 25-25. Grant led twice, both times in the second quarter, when Steve Miklautsch's two free throws restored the tie before the half ended.

Tyrone Walls and Don Zeman lead the Sequoits to their eighth straight victory. Walls lead both teams in scoring, with 21 points, led Antioch's rebounding with 14, and held Grant's sharp-shooting Lee Oler to three baskets and seven points.

In the fourth quarter, with Ty Walls scoring four baskets and doing a fine job on the boards, Antioch opened the largest lead of the evening, 49-42, with 2:32 remaining. Walls had four fouls on him by this time.

With some fine ball control, the Sequoits stalled for a minute and 5 seconds of the time remaining. The last minute and 25 seconds became a melee with neither team playing effectively.

Bill Smith called on to replace Bruce Empfield, came through with a great defensive job, controlling Sam Reimers the second half.

The statistics for the game showed the Sequoits to be on the winning side, of the ledger. Antioch hit 53% of their field goals, scoring on 20 of 38 attempts. Grant hit 17 of 39 for 44%. Antioch had a big edge in rebounding, totaling 38 to 21 for Grant. Walls lead Antioch in rebounding with 14, followed by Zeman's 10.

The hard-earned victory moved Antioch to undisputed possession of first place in the conference. Grant had been tied with Antioch for the top spot. It was Grant's first loss in conference play.

"The victory was a great team effort—we wanted this win badly," Coach Roger Andrews said. "I'm extremely proud of the way these fine young men have played during the first four conference games. I'm sure this kind of spirited play will continue throughout the season. We'd like to thank the Antioch fans for their support of the team—our crowd at Grant Friday night was just terrific."

Sophs Beat Grant, Lose To Zion

With Antioch's reserves playing the fourth quarter, the Antioch sophomore basketball team rolled over Grant 43-31 Saturday night at Grant.

The sophomores moved ahead of Grant 13-2 by the end of the first quarter. They increased the lead to 41 to 15 by the end of the third quarter, and Coach Bob Yonke took advantage of the lead to send in his reserves. Lose to Zion, 38-37.

The Sophs lost by one point Saturday night at Zion-Benton High School. Antioch fell behind by seven points at half time, then closed the gap in the quarter. It was nip and tuck throughout the fourth quarter.

With Zion-Benton leading 38-37 and four seconds left in the ball game, Jim Carlson stole the ball and was fouled in attempting to make his layup. He couldn't cash in on either of the free throws awarded, and the game ended with the score still 38 to 37 in favor of the Zee-Bees.

Coach Bob Yonke said he was pleased with the soph players' defense in both games. "We seldom gave our opponents an uncontested shot at the basket," Yonke said. "But the boys' free throw shooting left something to be desired. At Zion we made only 15 out of 34 attempts from the free throw line for a cool 44%."

Owens lead the scoring in the Grant game, with 17 points. Holway was next with ten. Owens lead the scoring again in the Zion-

ZB's Break Sequoits Winning Streak

The Antioch Sequoits' winning streak of eight games was broken by the hustling Zion ZeeBees Saturday evening, 65-61.

The Sequoits are still undefeated in conference play, with a 4-0 record.

The Antioch quintet played good basketball, but were unable to hit from the field. As cold as they were hot when playing Grant, the Sequoits couldn't buy a basket.

Statistics show they hit 22 of 70 shots while Zion hit 21 of 41 shots for 51%. Even at the charity line, the Sequoits hit only 17 of 35 for 49%, compared to their usual 68% to 70%. Rebounding was fairly even, and the Sequoits forced the Zee-Bees into several turn-overs but couldn't capitalize on the breaks.

In the first quarter, Zion completely out-hustled Antioch to move to a 19-14 lead. The Sequoits came to life in the second quarter and had everything working for them, out-scoring their opponents 18 to 8 to move to a 32-27 half-time lead.

Unable to score from the field in the second half, the Sequoits slowly lost their lead, and found themselves behind late in the fourth quarter. A short rally by the entire team moved Antioch to within two points with 31 seconds to go, but time ran out and the Sequoits' unbroken string of wins came to an end.

Walls lead the Sequoits in scoring, with 17 points. Empfield followed with 16, and the usually high-scoring Zeman had only 3.

Trophies, Prizes Awarded at Banquet

John Reimer and Jim Cossman were the big winners at the Waukegan Speedway during the 1966 racing season and left the Waukegan Speedway trophy dance with even more prizes. Over four hundred people were in attendance at "The Angels" for an evening of celebration as over 35 trophies and numerous other prizes were distributed among the outstanding race drivers at Waukegan last season.

Reimer gathered in a portable television, a special racing jacket, a framed picture of his famous modified number A3, and a huge trophy. This was Reimer's fourth consecutive driving crown at the Waukegan oval, a much sought after title as he and Whitey Harris fought right up until the last race for the position.

Cossman also won a TV, jacket, a framed picture of his record setting Chevy II late model and a giant late model championship trophy for his season long win over defending late model champ Dennis Burgan. Cossman barely grasped the title as this point race wasn't decided until the checkered flag fell concluding the season's champion fifty lap race.

Jim Luther was awarded the Announcer's Sportsman-

Sequoits Strong Contenders In Rockford Tournament

The Antioch Sequoits will play at 2 p.m. Wednesday against Oregon. If the Sequoits win, they'll meet the winner of the Rockford-Boylan-Carl Sandburg game Thursday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. If they win this one, they'll play two games Friday, one at 2:30 p.m. and again in the evening at either 7 p.m. or 8:30 p.m.

Other first round pairings match Peoria Manual and Evanston, Rockford Guilford and Willowbrook of Villa Park, Dundee and Harlem, Peoria Spalding and Chicago, Carver, Rockford Boylan and Carl Sandburg of Orland Park, and Mundelein and Rockford Auburn.

First round pairings were drawn by lot, but neighboring rivals were placed in opposite brackets as much as possible. In addition, the usual order of games was altered slightly so local teams could play first round games in evening sessions for financial reasons.

Auburn's Knights have won two straight championships, but will be faced with stiff competition from Evanston and Antioch, as well as from once-beaten Peoria Spalding.

Records of the 16 teams through games of Dec. 17 are: Antioch 8-1; Evanston 7-0; Spalding 5-2; Oregon 4-1; Guilford 4-1; Dixon 4-2; Harlem 5-1; Auburn 4-2; Dundee 4-4; Mundelein 5-3; Harlem 3-4; Willowbrook 2-3; Boylan 2-5; Manual 2-2; Sandburg 0-5 and Carver 2-1.

"Save The Federal Way"

Telephone tips for calling Long Distance this Christmas

Ways to save money

With Christmas falling on Sunday this year reduced rates for your holiday Long Distance calls will extend over a three-day period.

Low "evening" station-to-station rates are in effect all day Saturday until 8 p.m. and all day Monday until 8 p.m.

The lowest station rates apply any time on Sunday and after 8 p.m. on all other days.

The same low rates will be in effect during the New Year weekend.

Because more calls are made—and to more out-of-the-way places—during the holiday season, some calls will be delayed. But we'll get your call through as soon as we possibly can. And here are some tips that will help us give you faster service.

Ways to help avoid delays

Calls will go through faster early Christmas Eve, the early morning of Christmas Day, or any time Monday, December 26. If you'll call during one of these times, you'll avoid the busiest calling periods, and not have to wait for your call to go through.

Use Direct Distance Dialing to get your call through fastest. Check the front pages of your directory for complete dialing information. If your call doesn't go right through, hang up, and wait a while before trying again.

If you want to call person-to-person or collect, give the Long Distance Operator the Area Code of the community you're calling. That will help her place your call more quickly. Most Area Codes are listed in the front pages of your phone book.

Take Care Of Holiday Eyes

As you plunge into a busy whirl of holiday season activities, don't neglect one of your most precious assets: eyesight.

Your eyes are working for you constantly from early morning until late at night as you shop for gifts, address greeting cards, plan holiday menus prepare for parties, put up decorations and wrap presents.

The increased tempo of activity plus long hours puts added strain on your eyes. This in turn can produce unwanted fatigue, nervous tension and headache.

Researchers for the Murine Company have compiled the following suggestions to help you avoid these dampers on holiday fun.

1. Have proper lighting for the job at hand. When you're addressing cards during the day, sit near a window, with light coming over your left shoulder. At night, you need at least the amount of light projected by a 100-watt bulb 15 inches above your work.

This direct illumination should be supplemented with general background lighting, for maximum eye comfort. Avoid confined patches of glaring light—they are hard on the eyes. Don't try to work by the light of a Christmas tree. The effect puts you in a holiday mood—but also punishes the eyes.

TIME FOR SURPRISES

Every Christmas season is greeted with joyful surprises. The wonders of a greenhouse never cease. It is a continuing source for gifts. This year you can choose a plant for that someone hard to shop for. Gifts from your greenhouse are gratefully received.

DURABLE TOYS

Toys for a child should be sturdy and made from durable materials. Children have an amazing ability to break playthings. Also, paints should be non-toxic, and all edges, surfaces, and parts of toys should be well-finished.

2. Proper posture is important. When you sit erect, work will be the proper distance from your eyes—usually 14 to 16 inches. Bending over or slumping brings the work too close, putting added strain on your eyes.

THURSDAY, DEC. 22, 1966 THE ANTIOCH NEWS 7
3. Stop for periodic rest breaks. Relax your eyes by lifting them and focusing on distant objects for a few seconds. A few drops of eye lotion from a handy yellow squeeze bottle will soothe and refresh eyes made tired by overwork.
4. Give yourself a visual change of pace by pausing for a cup of coffee or going to the refrigerator for a cool drink.

SECTION II - CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Antioch, Illinois, Thursday, December 22, 1966

VOL. LXXXI, NUMBER 26

Greetings

TO ALL OUR FRIENDS

It's been a real pleasure serving you!

Radke's Barber Shop
Main Street Antioch, Ill.

By Ted Jones

Joshua Crane was almost ninety years of age and the richest man in Hillvale. He had not, as the boys around the pot-bellied stove at Moore's General Store liked to phrase it, "hit a lick at a snake in thirty years."

Oldtimers still had stories to tell of some of the ways Joshua had accumulated his wealth. Needless to say, Joshua Crane had no friends. Elmer, perhaps, but it was hard to tell. Elmer carried out his duties as cook, valet and chauffeur with a deference that was unchangingly stoic. Long ago he had learned to turn a deaf ear to the digs and more-than-casual comments of townfolk as he went daily to the market or wheeled the big, black limousine through the narrow streets.

Joshua Crane was the nearest thing to a relative or a friend that Elmer could claim. He had never known a family, his first memories of any importance being those of life in sternly managed orphanage, of running away, cheating and stealing his way across a continent and eventually into prison. Elmer was grateful to Joshua Crane. Joshua had hired him on a warden's recommendation thirty years ago and neither man had any reason to regret or to look back.

Elmer didn't mind not having a family. You don't miss something you never really possessed. Only at Christmas did Elmer feel stirring within himself the urge to reach out and grasp a share of the joy and the good will that seemed to permeate the snow-laden streets of Hillvale.

Christmas alone was a lonely time for Elmer. It was his time of greatest need. And it was the one time of the year when Joshua Crane insisted on sending him away. For thirty years, Elmer's vacation period had extended from December 23rd to January 2nd, without variation. Joshua insisted that he not only leave the house, but "get out of town. Go somewhere. Do something. A person gets stale if they never know change."

Awake and restless in the unfamiliar bleakness of a hotel room, Elmer felt stirring within himself the thing he had come to call the "Christmas urge." He dressed and impervious to the chill of wintry winds, walked the lonely streets. He knew this time the urge would win and, without returning to the hotel for his sparse belongings, he stepped aboard a bus that would take him back to Hillvale.

In contrast to the other homes he passed along the way, the big Crane mansion loomed dark and silent behind the tree-lined driveway.

Elmer let himself in as quietly as possible, hoping to forestall until tomorrow the trade that was sure to come his way.

Halfway up the stairs a glimmer of light from the partly opened basement door stopped him short. Lights. Colored lights. Blinking lights.

For a long time, Elmer stood, his nose and one eye against the opening at the basement landing. The cellar was alive with the sights, and the smell of Christmas. An ancient, carefully preserved metallic Christmas tree held the center of the stage, meticulously adorned with baubles and tinsel that had an equal look of age and use. At the base of the tree, splendidly arranged, were an assortment of gaily wrapped packages, with the discolored marks of time obvious at each corner and edge.

"I knew you would come. I hoped you would," Joshua Crane spoke without turning his eyes from the tree.

Hillvale folks had much to say Christmas Eve when word got around that the Crane mansion was decorated for Christmas, with a tree in the window, and a welcome wreath on the door.

Strangely, the thing folks had to say were somewhat kind. The kind of thing folks usually say when the "Christmas urge" begins to stir deep within the soul.

DESCRIPTION

He was dressed all in furs from his head to his foot and his clothes were all furnished with ashes and soot — he was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf and I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.

Clement Clark Moore gave these words to the world from his "A Visit From St. Nicholas."

A PRETTY TABLE

A pretty table is the first requirement for a party like atmosphere.

YULETIDE OPERA . . . Among television highlights of the Christmas season is presentation of Gian Carlo Menotti's Yuletide opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Singers in the classic presentation of the two past holiday seasons include, left to right, Kurt Yaghjian as Amahl, Martha King as the mother, and John McCollum, Richard Cross and Willis Patterson as the Three Kings.

Popcorn Balls

Make a big batch so there'll be some to eat and some to hang on the tree.

First have five quarts of popped corn . . . then

2 cups sugar	1 teaspoon vinegar
1 1/2 cups water	1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt	Candy red hots
1/2 cup light corn syrup

Keep popcorn hot and crisp in a slow oven. Combine the five ingredients, cook to hard ball stage (250°). Remove from heat and add vanilla. Slowly pour syrup over hot popped corn, mixing well to coat every kernel. If you wish, stir in some candy red hots for color. Butter your hands lightly before pressing popcorn mixture into balls.

SAINT NICK
GOOD OR BAD?

In December every year parents are faced with the problem of what to do or what to say about Santa Claus. Some of our educators say that the Santa theory is all wrong and some of today's "modern" parents seem to agree.

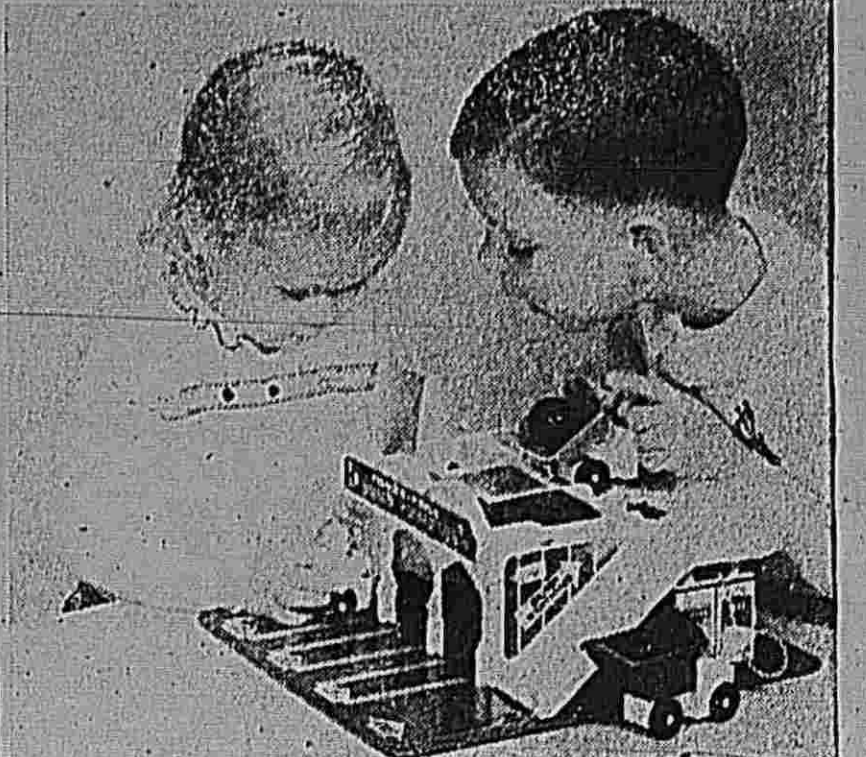

Is the Saint Nick idea good or bad for children? We say it is good and that no child, average or brilliant, ever suffered from the grand illusion. Children know there is a Santa Claus and they accept the fact that he gradually changes from the Santa of fiction to the Santa of reality.

Santa is good for small children, for children have imaginative minds. The fact they might see a Santa on every corner matters little. In their eyes Santa is a symbol, a mystery, and in his wondrous magic is apt to appear anywhere.

It is not the end of the world when the time comes that some older child shatters the illusion by telling all. This is the perfect opportunity for the parent to explain that Santa is, after all, a spirit of Christmas. He represents the spirit of giving and the reason that we give at Christmas time is because this is the day on which Jesus was born. Jesus taught us love and faith and hope and Santa is a figurative being who helps us understand and use that teaching.

FOR CARDS

Plunge several evergreen branches into a large flower pot. Paint a clay pot bright red or green. You can display your Christmas cards on the branches by taping or clipping them on.

WATCH IT THERE . . . Most children are fascinated by anything on wheels. Trucks are a particular favorite and, when it's a dump truck, complete with a ramp and dumping stations, well, it's something special.

THE WAITS

An important part of early English Christmas was the group known as the "waits." At first they were minstrels who sang and played at the court; afterward, watchmen, used to guard the streets. Finally the word was applied to the people who went from home to home singing Christmas carols; for their efforts they received small gifts or their suppers.

KISSING RING

Kissing Rings are a delightful Christmas custom. These are embroidery hoops covered with red ribbons and sprigged with holly and mistletoe. Ribbon can be glued to or wound around the rings.

MINCE PIE

The oriental character of the spices and flavoring of mince pie was said to represent the rich gifts the wise men brought to the Christ Child.

Passage from Hamlet

... the crowing of the cock. Some say that ever 'gainst that season wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated. The bird of dawning singeth all night long; And then, they say, no spirit dare stir abroad. The nights are wholesome; then no planets strike, No fairy takes, no witch hath power to charm. So hallow'd and so gracious is time.

May Peace,
Happiness,
Prosperity,
and Health abide in your home through the coming year.

Christmas Gifts Are Meaningful

Gift giving at Yuletide dates back to the Roman Saturnalia, when those people presented their friends "strenae" (fruits, pastries, and even jewelry). Also we remember the rights that the Magi, or the Wise Men, brought to the Christ Child in the manger at Bethlehem.

In recent years the custom has caused much discussion here in the United States for it must be admitted that the exchange of presents can, at times, be a burden instead of a pleasure. We sometimes deplore the fact that Christmas, like other holidays, has become tinged with commercialism.

To offset this phase, we should remember the fine spirit of friendliness that is shown through Christmas messages and gifts.

USE TREE

Erect the tree in the backyard after Christmas and convert it into a bird feeder. Pieces of suet, popcorn, peanut butter, and all other morsels of food are tied to the outer branches. Do keep a pan of water nearby for birds must have water as well as food.

Wishing our good friends in the community the best!

Tempting PLUM PUDDING

Plum pudding is as much a part of Christmas as holly and the Tree. This is one that you will enjoy making: You will enjoy eating it too.

1 pound seeded raisins — 1/2 pound minced orange peel — 5 eggs — 1/2 pound brown sugar — 1 pound suet chopped fine — 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg — 1/2 teaspoon cloves — 1/2 teaspoon mace — 1 cup Cognac brandy — 1 pound currants — 1/4 pound flour — 1 pound stale bread crumbs — 1 teaspoon cinnamon — 1 teaspoon allspice — 1 teaspoon baking soda — pinch of salt & grated rind of 1 lemon.

Wash the dry currants, add raisins and mix well. All dry ingredients should be mixed together. Beat the eggs and add to them the Brandy, then pour this liquid to the dry mixture and add fruit.

Pack into greased pudding mold and steam for 6 hours. Steam for another 6 hours when ready to use. Serve with Cognac or hard sauce. This will keep for weeks if kept in a cool, dry place.

Foxhole Holiday

By Sam Smith

In the shallow depth of a jungle foxhole, the Christmas spirit is a hard thing to come by. In fact, if it wasn't for some wise guy like the "preacher" over there, you wouldn't even know what day it was, as if it made any difference.

Lost. Cut off from your company. Burrowed down in a muddy hole that the enemy may any moment come to reclaim for his own, you can but gaze up at an empty night sky and try to close your ears against the monotonous sound of his voice.

"... And Joseph, also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David)..."

Nuts. It must be near daylight. We've been in this hole for hours. Seems more like months, though, what with "the kid" over there calling for his mama when he's asleep and crying out loud when he's awake. And Preacher, him reeling just like he was reading it out of a book. How does a guy get like that, anyhow?

"... With Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered..."

Boy! Fat chance we got being delivered from here. Five get you ten we've been marked off already. Operation mess-up, that's us. What starts off as a simple patrol winds up a one-way ticket out of the war... out of the whole picture. Why should they take us prisoner? The way they move around, we'd be too much excess baggage.

Look at sarge. Is he worried? How can you tell? That lump of tobacco in his left jaw hasn't moved in an hour or two. Neither has his eyes. If I couldn't hear him breathing, I'd think he was dead. Well, come tomorrow morning...

"And she brought forth her first-born Son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn."

No room in this cotton-pickin' foxhole, either. Reb, there, snoring like he was sat at home in a feather bed. The guy could sleep on a rock pile. First in line for chow and pay, first of all to hit the hay. Nice guy, though. Maybe he has the right attitude. Why worry? Not much you can do about things. Just rock along, get your share of everything you can, speak only when you're spoken to, don't volunteer for nothin'.

"... And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night."

And keeping watch is what they're doing out there. Wonder how close they are? Surely they know we're here. They broke off the search at twilight, but you can bet they're not far. Come daylight, they'll zero-in on us, for sure. We haven't got a prayer.

"And, to the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them..."

There she comes. That first break in the sky. Can't be long now. The trees are beginning to take shape. I know I can see movement. There's no breeze. Too big to be a bird. It is; it must be; it is them. "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings..."

ACCORDING TO ST. LUKE, VERSES 1 TO 22 - CHAPTER 2

And it came to pass in these days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was Governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David;) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first-born Son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, to the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them. Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

treat joy, which shall be to all people." That cooks us. It's broad daylight now. This is it. Wake up, you heavy-eyed sky-jumpers, you're about to be pounced on.

"Hey, hey, you guys, heads down. There's mail coming in. It's ours. Listen to them mortars bang. Hey, Sarge! Hey! Kid! Hey, Preacher! Look up! Look up! Choppers, man, choppers. Come on here, you whitleybirds! Merry Christmas, you egg-beaters, Merry Christmas to one and all!"

JALOPY... Pulltoys are happy-go-lucky gift for the very young. This circus clown in his roadster rolls along with a wobbling motion and the engine makes a putt-putt sound. The jolly clown's head is spring-mounted so it flops around and around as he rides.

CHRISTMAS, FLORIDA

Christmas, Florida, is a town of 250 people near Orlando. As a fort it was completed on Christmas, 1835, and so received its name. Connected with the other states by the United States mail, the post office has been kept busy throughout December remailing cards, letters, and packages. In one year it handles over 300,000 pieces of mail. Lately a permanent Christmas tree with weatherproof ornaments has been erected.

FOR THE FAMILY... Singer Andy Williams and actress Claudine Longet, like the rest of us, are concerned with what gift to give family and friends this Christmas.

Christmas Clean Up

Cleaning up after opening Christmas packages can be quite a chore. Before it's time for opening packages, have handy a couple large shopping bags. Find a good size cardboard box. You'll have a place for scraps of paper, a place for ribbons and trim you want to keep, and a carton for throw away boxes.

Christmas is Near

Strangers begin to smile and speak to you on the street. Someone offers to help Mom with the dishes.

Children never fail to say "Sir" and "Ma'am". The bus driver sees you running - and waits an extra minute.

You find yourself feeling fine and looking at the world through rose colored glasses.

Plan Your Spending

Do not engage in excessive spending - it will be a happier Christmas for you. Plan your gift-buying well within your income.

Carving
THE

Carving the holiday bird is practically an art—whether it be turkey, goose, duck, chicken or partridge. It is a happy task when done with skill.

The all-important beginning is a good set of knives with fine hollow ground steel blades and long lasting handles. (Gift Idea) A long bladed roast slicer carries joint best.

Carve leg first; insert the fork firmly through the center of the wishbone. Place the platter so that the legs of the bird are to your right. Start by carving the leg nearest you. Make a vertical cut on each side of the second joint of the leg where it is attached to the body by skin. Bend the entire leg toward the platter. With the point of the slicer cut through the connecting skin and socket and remove the leg. Next cut off the wing. To slice the breast meat, place the blade at the top of the breastbone. Push the knife downward and forward toward the wing socket. Continue by moving the knife a degree closer to the bird. Complete one side of the bird before turning to repeat the same method.

Christmas Carols From Many Lands

A part of the Christmas celebration in America is the singing of yuletide carols. We hear them from groups of carolers outside our doors, from choir lofts in our churches as well as radio and television. The Christmas season is enriched by favorite carols.

Early settlers from European lands brought us three of our favorite carols. "Away in a Manger" from Germany; "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen" from England and "Canticle do Noel" from France. "Adesle Hildes" belongs to no country; however, it has been translated into 119 different languages and dialects.

"It Came Upon A Midnight Clear" was composed by Edmund H. Sears, an American, in 1849. In 1859 Dr. John Henry Hopkins Jr. composed "We Three Kings Of Orient Are". Dr. Hopkins was an American and the writer of "O Little Town Of Bethlehem" in 1868. Phillips Brooks, was an American too.

Denmark Custom
A Danish Christmas custom is the "Jul-bock". This is a long pole with a goat's head, whose duty it is to beat in when children misbehave.

CHRISTMAS GIFT

By Mike Bennett

Christmas was a wonderful time for a ten-year-old in the little town of Smithdale. Folks were filled with holiday enthusiasm and they paid extremely well for such small chores as clearing the sidewalks of snow, bringing in coal or chopping cordwood. Brother John, two years older but so nearly equal size that we were often mistaken for twins, was our "business manager". He lined up the jobs weeks in advance, keeping an accurate record of jobs completed and future appointments. John wasn't merely training for his future role as an accountant; he was making certain that we got the jobs before other kids in town beat us to them.

John always made certain that we were assigned to any tasks around the Smythe mansion. We got these jobs so regularly a big snowfall automatically sent us to the Smythe grounds, shovels in hand.

Mr. Smythe was perhaps the most respected man in Smithdale. His ancestors founded the town. I have wondered, since it wasn't Smithdale, why he started out that way. But I prefer to believe Mr. Smythe's ancestors were as reasonable as he and gave the town a name it could know and live with.

Mr. Smythe had lived alone, except for several servants, since Mrs. Smythe passed away, which was about the time I was born. Two grown sons lived in the East, and one was president of a big business and wealthy in his own right. Each year, with their ever-increasing families, the sons returned to the Smythe mansion before Christmas and remained through the beginning of the New Year.

Each year the tree was decorated, before the arrival of the younger generation, in a corner of the spacious living-room. For two Christmases, John and I had greatly admired this tree as we brought in logs for the open fireplace. We had also gazed in great wonder at a huge, green and gaily decorated package which was placed beneath the tree even before decoration was completed under the careful direction of Mr. Smythe.

The second year, in response to my child-like question, the butler had discreetly shown me and said, "It is a present Mr. Smythe presents to himself each year."

You may well imagine what the thought of a rich man giving a present to himself stirred in the imagination of a child! Bags of money? A golden cloak?

On the Christmas Eve of the great snowfall, we had spent the afternoon in a useless battle. (Snow buried the Smythe walks and driveways faster than two boys could remove it.)

Mr. Smythe called us into the house and, as we stood before the crackling fire, water from melted snow dripping from our boots and clothing on to the plush carpeting, he gave each of us a shiny twenty-dollar gold piece.

"The weather is so bad," he said. "My family will not be here until after Christmas. I am going to open my present. I want you to see what you have been so curious about."

The ribbons fell aside and the wrappings were removed... to reveal — a big cardboard box, open at each end!

Mr. Smythe turned to two astonished boys. "Have you ever seen a more beautiful package with something of so little value inside? Not now, but some day you boys will understand this gift I give myself. I have much. My world is a world of plenty. I remind myself that all this is not so important as what I am... what I do with wealth, and what wealth does to me. This is a good gift I give myself, much greater in value than the twenty-dollar piece you hold in your hands."

This happened almost a lifetime ago. Each Christmas since I have given myself a present. The package is large, gaily wrapped in green. It contains nothing but a well-worn twenty-dollar gold piece... and the memory of a very wise old man.

Turkey is Choice With Americans

Almost every nation has its own special Christmas dish. Since Americans represent people from all parts of the world, it is not surprising that one finds different holiday menus in the various parts of the country. Two thoroughly American pedigrees, however, are turkey and cranberries.

Indians ate wild turkey, cranberries and pumpkin before the first European colonists arrived. The turkey today is a domesticated variety of the native wild turkey.

The Night
In Egypt

By Mike Bennett

And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: but it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

CAROLS AND CAROLING

Caroling was a popular pastime in England, where it is said to have come in common use after the Norman Conquest. Various religious carols composed in other lands were sung, and Englishmen produced some of our most beloved carols, including "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" and "Joy To The World."

On Christmas eve, country carol singers spent half the night tramping the ice-bound ways and frosty woodlands, now and then striking up their old melodies, which sang of the heavenly birth and earth's substantial comforts and joys with impartial mixture. A fine hearty welcome greeted them at the houses and farmsteads, whose occupants sat up in impatient anticipation.

THE LORD OF MISRULE

At the king's court, as well as at universities and manor houses a Lord of Misrule had charge of the sports, games, and entertainments during the Yule season. In London, for instance, this personage paraded along the streets with his followers and organized activities for the populace. In homes games were played, one of the favorites being Snap Dragon, the attempt to pull a fish from a bowl of flaming spirits.

Finger Style Food

Foods for nibbling are welcome at holiday festivities. Try this quick and easy spread for fond rounds or crackers. Combine 1 can (12 oz.) luncheon meat, ground with 1/2 cup sour cream, 1/8 teaspoon garlic salt, and 1 teaspoon dry instant onion, reconstituted. Mix thoroughly.

Bologna Kabobs are good finger eatin' too, and easy. On skewers or on wooden picks thread: bologna cubes, green pepper squares, and small spiced beefs; or 2 bologna cubes and pickled cherry pepper; or 3 bologna cubes, pimento squares, green tomato pickles and gherkins.

Stocking Accident

It is the custom in Britain to leave toys under the tree until afternoon on Christmas Day. During the Christmas visit by Santa, the stockings are filled. It was an accident, according to British legend, that the stocking custom was originated. The story goes that saint-Nicholas dropped some coins as he was going down the chimney. The coins did drop into a stocking, but the stocking had been hanging by its heels to dry.

REDS AND GREENS

The traditional colors of the Christmas season are red and green. These colors have meant different things to different people over the ages. Color has been used as the symbol of abstract ideas from time immemorial.

Green was a sacred color among the ancient and medieval Egyptians who wore it as a symbol of hope and the joy of spring.

In early and medieval Christian art, colors had a mystic or symbolic meaning. Red indicated passion. In its good sense it was a symbol of divine energy and love and the creative power of the Holy Spirit; in its bad sense it was a sign of hate. In that meaning it became a sign of Satan.

Emerald green is often the symbol of hope and growth in many Christian paintings.

Bayberry Candles Popular Favorite

The settlers of our country found that the bayberry gave off a wax that would make fine candles. Since animal fat was important as food and for other uses, it was the bayberry candle that was used as much as possible. It was usually the task of the children to gather the berries.

Candles have always been associated with Christmas and many legends give them a place in the observance of the holiday.

In Ireland, for instance, on Christmas eve a large candle was burned which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary.

An old verse repeats the tradition, that burning a bayberry candle on Christmas eve would insure one of a long and happy life.

To learn your luck for a year, they say, Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas day. If the flame burns bright, and the light shines clear, Good-luck will be yours through out the year.

NAMING CHRISTMAS

Christmas means both prayerful worship and festive merry-making. The holy meaning of the day is expressed in its name.

The Latin name for Christmas translates as the Feast or Birthday of Our Lord. The English Christmas means the Mass of Christ, a meaning which is closely paralleled by the Dutch "Kermis". In Germany it's "Weihnacht", or sacred night.

Christmas Seals Came from Denmark

Slightly newer than the Christmas card is the Christmas seal.

The Christmas seal was originated by a postal clerk, Einar Holboell, who ordered the first Christmas seals printed and sold at regular post offices in Denmark. While stamping letters and Christmas cards in 1903 in the post office in Copenhagen, the idea occurred to him. Why not have a special stamp printed for the many tuberculosis sufferers who need hospital treatment? The first year more than four million stamps were sold, yielding some 18,000 dollars.

The movement for adopting the stamp in the United States was greatly strengthened through the efforts of Miss Emily Bissell of Wilmington, Delaware. She designed the first Christmas seal herself. It had a half wreath of holly and a cross, with "Merry Christmas" in the center and "Happy New Year" at the bottom.

No Evergreen Trim Found in Finland

The homes and churches of Finland never use evergreens as trim or decoration, because they regard them as symbols of mourning.

The homes, at Christmas time, suspend what is called a "heaven" from the living room ceiling. Their "heavens" consist of a cord framework covered with straw and different colors of paper and ribbon. Then it is covered with paper stars and silhouettes cut in various designs. The effect, when reflecting the firelight and the candles glow, is mysterious and fascinating.

In the churches candles are used profusely; the altars are banked and the windows are filled with them. Before dawn on Christmas morning, churches beckon approaching visitors with this effect, like brilliant lanterns.

PIERRE'S PROMISE

By Jean Charles

Pierre was eight years old. His world was a vast one, bounded on the north by snow-capped peaks of the Kelson range, on the west and south by the rolling Red River, on the east by the great pine forest.

Somewhere, over the mountains and across the river, were great concentrations of people. Pierre had read about them in the books brought to him by his father's friend, John, who made periodic visits to bring supplies and the hunters and fishermen Pierre's father guided through the surrounding wilderness.

On the days the plane was due, Pierre went early to the river, eager to catch the earliest sight of the float plane as it dropped down out of the sky and skimmed to a stop on the surface of the river.

Today was a special day. It was Christmas Eve. Pilot John would fulfill a promise he had made long ago. He would take Pierre skyward, over the mountain and across the forests to the Big City. As John had described it, the vision had lived with Pierre for almost a year. . . stores and shops, people milling about, shouting and laughing, some even singing . . . and at night, the lights of a thousand colors dancing across the streets . . . and, side by side, neat houses, alive with the sparkle and color of Christmas trees and holiday greenery.

The plane was not due for hours. But the boy scanned the horizons, even searching the sky in directions from which he knew the plane would not come.

He felt the flakes on his nose and eyelashes before he realized that the sky had been almost shut from view by snowflakes whirling and dancing on the wings of a wind from the north.

What if the plane didn't come at all? What if this was to be just another day? All of the sights his eyes would behold and the sounds to delight his ears, were they fading back into the never-never land of tomorrow?

Surely, the plane would come. Pilot John had flown in with supplies under more adverse conditions on numerous occasions. Maybe there was a real storm across the mountains. One could never tell. Perhaps, too, Pilot John had forgotten his promise.

The snowfall intensified. But the boy was oblivious. He neither felt the bite of the wind nor the pelting fury of the flakes that gathered on his clothing and clung briefly until he absent-mindedly brushed them away.

Vaguely, Pierre became aware that his mother was calling him. He knew what she wanted. But it was not food that he craved. Food would not dissolve the ache that tore at his insides and seemed to increase with each passing moment, each new awareness that the later the hour, the less the chance that the plane would come.

"Pierre, Pierre, please come. Please come now."

It was then he saw it, gliding gracefully across the rim of the nearest peak, turning at the nearest meadow in a wide arc, meeting the river at the distant bend and coming to him like the fulfillment of a dream.

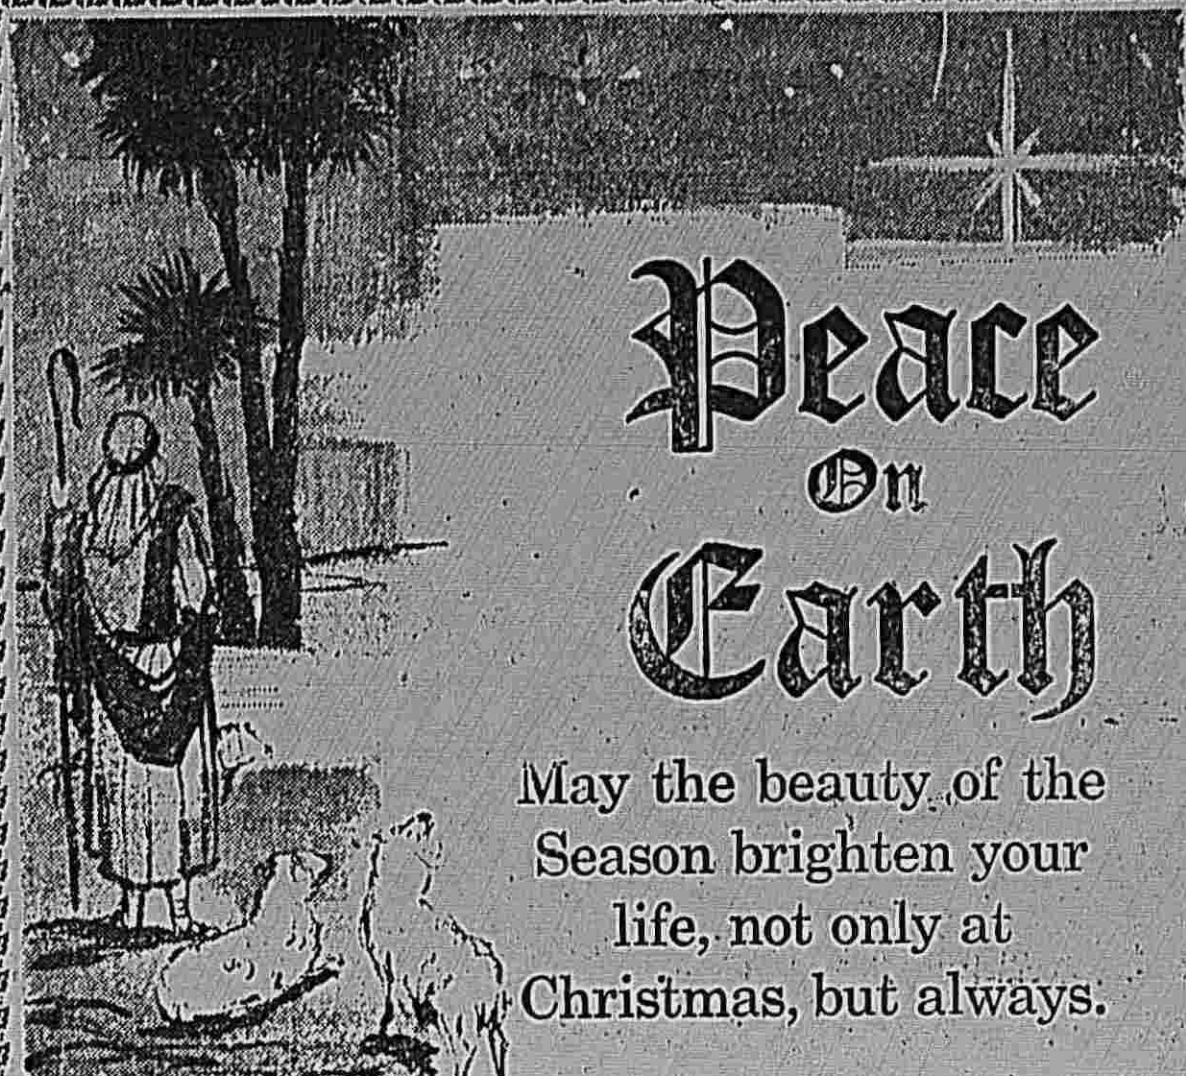

Supper was a mechanical procedure. Pierre spoke when spoken to, only dabbled at the food before him. He could not stifle the feeling of anticipation that lived within him; it grew and grew; it surged within him until strapped in the seat of the plane, firmly clutching his father's hand, he saw the rolling river become no more than an amber thread against a field of whiteness and the snow-capped peaks rush beneath the plane and pass away.

It was a long flight to Big City. Yet, in his mind's eye, Pierre already could see Christmas lights on the far horizon and the flight of his own fancy was more powerful than the iron strength of the grey bird soaring across the northern sky.

Witches At Christmas

One of the most popular symbols of the Christmas holidays, candy canes, began with an old superstition during the Middle Ages. Europeans of that period carried glass canes filled with colored candles to distract witches.

They believed that the witches became so interested in sorting the candles that casting of evil spells was forgotten.

OFFICE PARTY

By Ellen Carroll

Harry Jones began to edge toward the doorway. The office Christmas party had almost reached the critical point. Mr. Leathers had positioned himself before the tree and was rapping on the table before him with the golden pen his employees had presented to him the previous year. Now he would present gifts to each employee and in return require them to tell everyone how they planned to spend the Christmas holidays.

This year, Harry was going to balk. For the fifteen years he had worked for Leathers & Company his Christmas speech had been proud, short and deliberate: "I'm going to visit my family and friends in New London."

For fifteen years, Harry had lived with his lie. Harry had no family. He had no friends. Each holiday season he had secreted himself in his room at the YMCA, afraid to venture into the streets lest someone see him and Leathers & Company, which was his entire world, would become aware he hadn't gone anywhere at all, and that he was a liar and a fraud.

Harry had almost reached the door when Mr. Leathers looked him in the eye. "You may help me, if you will, Harry. I'll call the names and you pass out the presents. This will cut down on the traffic and everyone will remain comfortable."

"Yes, sir," Harry responded, stumbling forward, stepping heavily on the instep of Carol Whitley in the process. Carol let out a scream and the office resounded with laughter. Harry had done it again. Harry never did anything right.

"I'm sorry," Harry said, to no one in particular, too embarrassed to apologize to Carol, who was obviously more embarrassed than injured.

Harry suffered through the presentation of gifts. What things his friends had planned to do. How nice it would be to visit grandma on the farm, to take the wife and kids to Ski Valley, or just to stay home and exchange gifts by the fire-side.

And then, it was Harry's turn. He accepted his present with a mumbled, "Thank you, Mr. Leathers," and hoped the matter would end there.

But Mr. Leathers persisted. "As if I didn't know, Harry, what are your plans for the holiday?"

Harry swallowed, hard. "I'm going to... No, I'm not. I'm going, as usual, to my room at the 'Y'. I have no family. I never had one. I was an orphan. I have lied to you people, my friends, for 15 years. I've never been anywhere for Christmas. Maybe I will go somewhere this year... if nowhere else, to church. But, I won't hide to make you think I have gone somewhere."

You could hear a pin drop. Spontaneously, everyone applauded. Mr. Leathers the laziest of all. "Come to see us, Harry."

"Yes, spend your holiday with us."

"The latch is out at our house, Harry."

Mr. Leathers raised his hands for silence. "I think, Harry, we always knew. But we could do no more than play your game. Mrs. Leathers and I would be delighted to have you join us for Christmas dinner. You need not accept now. We'll discuss it later. We have one more gift."

"It's mine," Carol Whitley said. "And, if you don't mind, I'll come and get it. I don't want Harry stepping on my feet again."

"And, what will you do for the holiday?" Mr. Leathers asked.

Carol looked knowingly at Harry. "I have a very old friend who, like myself, has no one to visit, no place to go. If he agrees, we shall have Christmas dinner together at the best restaurant in town."

Everyone applauded. "That is," Carol added laughingly, "provided he agrees to walk at least two paces behind me."

Everyone laughed. And, everyone agreed it had been an excellent Christmas party.

SYMBOLS

Before the Christmas era, evergreens were used in traditional ceremonies. Egyptians, celebrating the winter solstice (shortest day of the year) brought green date palms into their homes as a symbol of "life" triumphant over "death."

The evergreen bough was used by the Romans in their observance of the feast of the Saturn. The Druids believed that a sprig of evergreen in the house meant eternal life; early Scandinavians paid homage to the fir tree, and the Norsemen saw in evergreens the revival of their sun god, Balder.

Quick Candy

You will find that candies are always a welcome gift. The quickest and easiest, as well as healthful are those made from dried fruits. Nuts can be ground with the fruit if you like. Mix well and moisten with fruit juices or condensed milk. If needed, shape into balls or roll out onto a sheet, then cut in squares or fancy shapes. Dip each piece in granulated or powdered sugar, ground toasted coconut, nuts, or melted chocolate.

Gift Wrap

The smallest gift will look impressive in a gaily wrapped package. Use shelf paper, scraps of material or odd ends of wallpaper. To tie your package use strips of cloth cut in ribbon widths with pinkish shears, or bright colored yarns. Pack your gifts in unusual containers — such as flower pots, small basket, decorated oatmeal boxes, coffee cans or paper plates with bright seals.

The Gay Nineties Festive Times

During the Gay Nineties, hostesses often announced in the newspapers the hours they would receive guests on New Year's. People arrived in their best finery — men in silk hats, with chainmail skin gloves, and ladies in "stiff bombazine with seakins tips."

Callers left their cards on trays in the reception hall, greeted the host and hostess, then went to the dining room, where tables held such substantial foods as roast beef, turkey, ham, relishes, along with all kinds of fancy pastries. Of course, punch and the traditional eggnog were dispensed in large quantities. After their guests had departed, the host and hostess often made a round of calls on their friends. As a result, the affair became a calling marathon.

At times, undesirables managed to crash the parties; also guests who had imbibed too much at different homes sometimes caused hostesses embarrassment.

MAKE YOUR OWN SNOW

An economical way to dress up your holiday decorations is to make homemade "snow."

Put lots of soap chips or flakes in a little water. Beat lightly with a wire mesh spoon, long enough to get a thick foam. Squeeze on needles and stems of Evergreen branches, allow to dry, and you have a winter snow effect.

SIDEBOARD BREAKFAST

It's an old English custom, breakfast off the sideboard. The informality of serving yourself is perfect for a holiday morning. Buffet breakfasts and brunches are an unusually attractive way to help the home-maker.

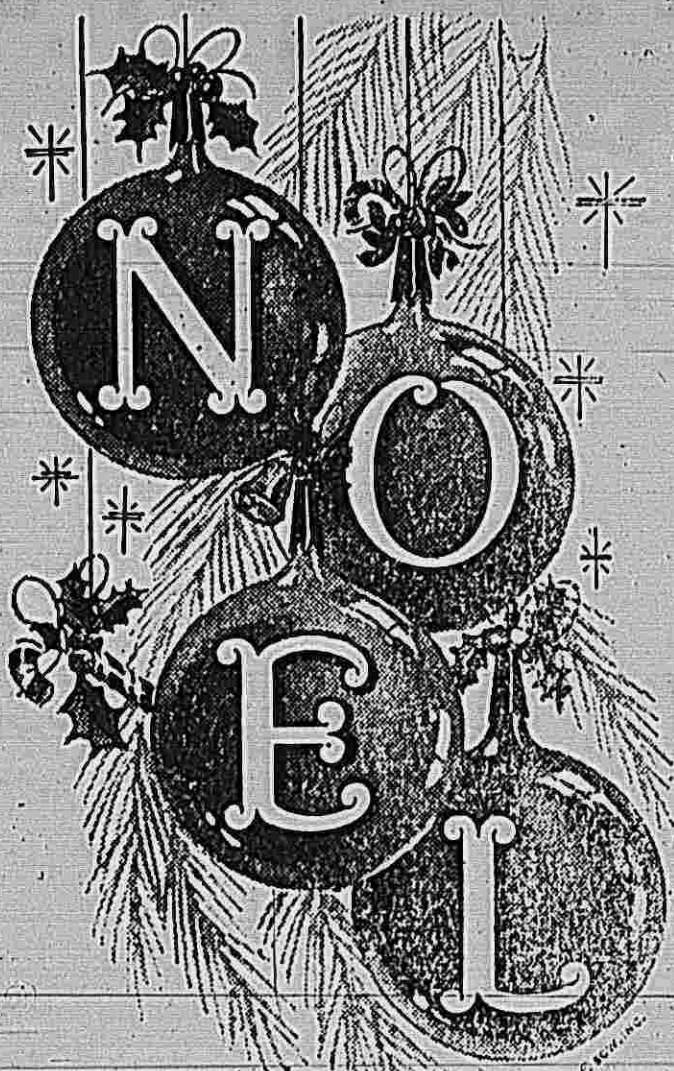

There are certain precautions that homemakers should be aware of if they receive a poinsettia for Christmas. They will last longer if they have plenty of light, kept in a cool place and given proper watering. You will enjoy your plant longer if it is kept away from radiators, TV sets or other sources of heat. A windowsill location often can furnish both light and cool temperature—provided it is not over a radiator.

Proper watering is necessary to prevent the leaves from dropping. The soil should be watered thoroughly until water runs from the bottom of the pot, then allowed to become rather dry before watering again.

"NACIMENTOS"

In Spain the Nativity scene is so popular that vendors set up stands before the holiday. They offer colorful clay, wood and cardboard figures which are arranged into Nativity scenes, known locally as "Belenes" or "Nacimientos".

In some villages it is custom to award a prize for the best arrangement of a Belenes.

A small carved figure of the Madonna and Child is the proud possession of the Benedictine Monastery of Montserrat near Barcelona. It is believed that it was carved by St. Luke and brought to Spain by St. Peter in 30 A.D.

DOMINICAN HOLIDAY

Christmas remains a religious holiday in the Dominican Republic. The Christmas dinner is enjoyed generally after the Christmas Eve midnight mass. Carols are sung in the streets.

Through trade and social relations with the United States, Santa Claus is becoming more popular, but the children continue to receive their presents on January 6, when gold, frankincense, and myrrh were traditionally given by the Wise Men.

Bethlehem Busy At Christmas Time

Since the first Christmas Christians have followed the Star to the stable-grotto beneath the church of the Nativity, the traditional birthplace of Jesus of Nazareth in Bethlehem.

Bethlehem is even poorer than most people would believe. A recent visitor said "Wonders fill the streets — anyone can see why Mary and Joseph found no room in the Inn."

Every Christmas, shepherds watching their flocks outside Bethlehem, had to be especially watchful that the sheep did not trap themselves in the barbed wire separating Jordan and Israel. Bethlehem, on the Jordan side of the wire, has been sorely affected by the hostility and the uneasy truce. It is crowded with Arab refugees, who formerly lived in Israel.

The effect of the conflict has been crippling of Bethlehem's chief industry, the making and selling of objects of piety from olive wood, Dead sea stone and mother of pearl. Except at Christmas, pilgrims are so few that the profit had gone from the business.

On Christmas eve, however, the dusty city takes on new life. Christmas diplomats living in divided Jerusalem expect to be escorted to the little town over the unusual highway through no-man's land. Pilgrims from the Israel side pass through the Mandelbaum Gate.

Rich and poor pilgrims worship together in the fourth-century church of the Nativity. There is a high mass, during which the image of the Christ Child is carried from the church through the Mandelbaum Gate.

The ceremonies come to a climax before three adjacent shrines. The Altars of the Nativity, The Wise Men and the Manger. Outside, Christians from many lands will sing, as angels sang nearly 2,000 years ago: "Glory To God In The Highest", and on earth peace and good will toward men.

FOR YOU, DAD... This pint-sized Santa has a Christmas surprise for dad, a pair of fashionable slacks with a permanent waistband.

IN SYRIA

The holiday season in Syria differs from that in most countries. It begins on St. Barbara's day, Dec. 4th and continues until Epiphany, Jan. 6th. St. Barbara was outstanding in goodness. This eve, sacred to her memory, a table of sweetmeats is arranged, prepared from nuts, sugar, honey, and wheat, the latter in memory of the dead and signifying the resurrection of the soul.

TREE FRESHNESS TEST

To test the tree before you buy, rub a finger across the butt. Stickiness is a sign of freshness. Bounce the tree on the ground several times. If the needles shed, the tree has begun to dry out. Next tug at the needles. If they pull off easily, freshness has gone. Patches of browned needles mean dryness has set in. A fragrant odor is a good sign of freshness, and healthy green needles are a good sign too.

Outdoor Shrubs For Decorations

Many trees and shrubs, perhaps some in your own yard, produce attractive foliage suitable for holiday decorations. Some can be brought in the home for trim, others can be decorated for outside.

Foliage plants include Magnolia, pine, hemlock, Chinese fir, cryptomeria, pittosporum and aucuba gold-dust.

Popular shrubs include Caroberry, Snowberry, varieties of roses, such as Rose Multiflora, also many assortments of Viburnums and Eutonymus.

American holly is best known, but there are others, such as Yaupon, Deciduous holly, Chinese holly and English holly.

Try decorating any one of these that you have in your yard. Bring some in your house, perhaps an assortment of branches, or brighten up your yard with lights on shrubs.

Evergreens, symbols of eternal life, have long been used for decorating at Yuletide. Teutonic peoples believed that certain greens would frighten certain evil spirits away. The Saxons hung holly, ivy, rosemary, or laurel in their homes and churches. In the great manor houses, walls, pillars, and windows were adorned with branches of greens. A bunch of mistletoe hung from the door or ceiling. Each time a man stole a kiss under it he had to pluck a berry from the bough.

It is said that early Roman enemies made up their quarrels when they met under the mistletoe; this is believed to be the origin of kissing under the green. This plant was not used in churches (because of its association with the pagan Druid ceremonies). There was one exception to this — at York Minster — where a bunch was laid on the high altar "with a benediction for peace and good will".

As early as 1444, greenery was used on the streets of London as Christmas decorations, and the custom grew through the years. Holly has long been a favorite holiday green. There are several legends connected with it. One is that Christ's crown of thorns was made of holly. Some say that the idea of making holly wreaths came from His Crown, as the berries resembled drops of blood. Today holly wreaths, with their glistening green leaves and contrasting berries, are among our most distinctive holiday decorations.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS 15 THURSDAY, DEC. 22, 1966

If you are willing to forget what you have done for others and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more in the foreground; to close your book of complaints against the universe, and look for a place to sow seeds of happiness — if you are willing to do these things even for a day, then you can keep Christmas.

Believe that the needs and desires of little children are to be considered; and remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts. Believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil and stronger than death. You will be Keeping Christmas.

THE CHRISTMAS FEAST

"For Food and Fellowship, Thank God," says the simplest of all graces, and of these two blessings there has never been any lack at Christmas time. A vast dinner of roast turkey, with all its trimmings, plum pudding and mince pies appear every year on countless tables throughout the world. Turkey, though now traditional, is a comparative new comer, unknown in Europe before about 1542, and appearing then only as one among a variety of festive dishes. Goose or beef for Christmas pies were the early favorites in ordinary families, while in great houses there were swans, venison, peacocks and the boar's head.

Boar's head was eaten during the Scandinavian Yule in honor of the Sun-boar. At the great medieval Christmas banquets the head was garlanded with rosemary and bay, and an orange or an apple was thrust between the teeth.

Christmas puddings, as we know them today, date only from about 1670, and began as a stiffened form of plum porridge. This was made of meat broth, raisins, fruit juices, wine and spices thickened by bread crumbs.

Christmas Spirit

All of the preparations for Christmas have become traditional. The decorations for the house, the tree, fixing good things to eat, choosing the right gifts and remembering everyone that we should — all of this has become traditional.

Christmas day usually is less feverish and more quiet. This is the time when the majority of us face up to the true meaning of Christmas and the spiritual blessings that attend the season.

HOLIDAY ROSES... Pretty girls in pretty robes for the holiday season or, a gift that a girl can appreciate. If you're toasting marshmallows, it's fun to toast them in style.

OUTDOOR TRIM

Pines, fir and spruce around a house can be safely decorated with lights, and add a Christ-mas touch to the entire neighborhood.

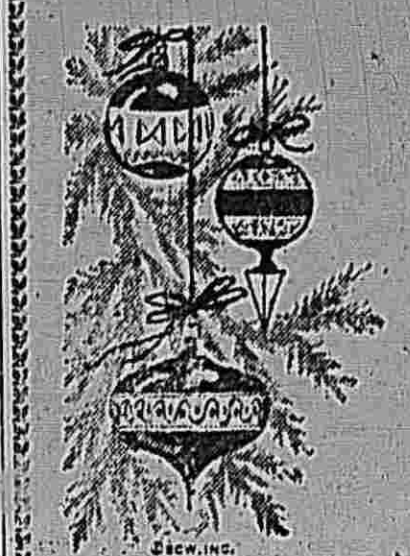

Bulbs of 15 wattage are sufficient for outdoor glow. Hang outdoor sockets downward to prevent water and snow from collecting in them and rubber-jacketed cord should connect the lights.

In Lithuania

Lithuanians cover their Christmas Eve dinner table with layers of straw in memory of the night in Bethlehem. An unconsecrated water, symbolizing the love, harmony, and good will of the season, is shared by all the members of the family.

THE FIRST GIFTS

The first Christmas gifts were those which the Wise men carried to Bethlehem to lay before the Christ Child in the manger. Their gifts given in adoration, were precious items of the day — gold, frankincense, and myrrh. The latter two were gum resins used in medicines and perfumes. But, then as now, it is the spirit of giving rather than the gift itself that makes it most appreciated.

APPLE CENTERPIECE

Apples and evergreens from your own garden will make the perfect centerpiece for your holiday dinner table.

Remove the stems of eight shiny red apples and scoop out holes large enough for 5-inch candles. If you want your centerpiece to last through the holidays, coat the apples with a clear lacquer to prevent shriveling.

String the apples on a piece of heavy wire (14 gauge) about 38 inches long, spacing the apples evenly. Bend wire into a circle and secure both ends in one apple. You could, of course, just stand the apples in a circle. But the wire holds them securely, so that if something should bump into them they won't topple over.

Fasten the candles with a few drops of melted wax. Cover wire with sprigs of evergreen or strands of pine.

For the center, choose the largest apple you can find, scoop out the stem, and wedge a tall candle in the hole by using springs of evergreen.

You can achieve a color scheme to suit your holiday decor by the kind of apples you choose — red or yellow, or even green; by the kind of evergreens you use; and by the color of candles you select. Use red apples with red or white (or both) candles and evergreens such as cryptomeria, white pine, balsam; use yellow apples and yellow or white candles with yellowish-green foliage; green apples and blue candles with bluish-green evergreens.

If there is a flickering in your fireplace, toss in a few scraps of apple peel and some twigs of evergreen — they will give a lovely aroma!

THE Christmas ROSE

It was the night of Christ's birth in Bethlehem. Outside the stable of the inn where the Holy Family had taken shelter for the night, a group of people had gathered. Among these were the shepherds, who had come to worship the Babe. All of them were bearing gifts for the Child.

There was a young girl in the gathering. She joined the group to find out what had brought them here. When she heard their story and knew that the young child born this night had been called the Savior, she too wanted to go in and worship.

But she had no gift to offer, and tears of disappointment fell from her eyes. As her tears touched the ground, at that place there sprang up a bush and on it was the most beautiful white blossom she had ever seen! She plucked it happily and reverently offered her gift to the Christ Child.

According to the legend, it was in that way, the Christmas Rose came into being.

PETTICOAT TREE

Use a gay petticoat to replace the cotton at the base of your Christmas tree this year.

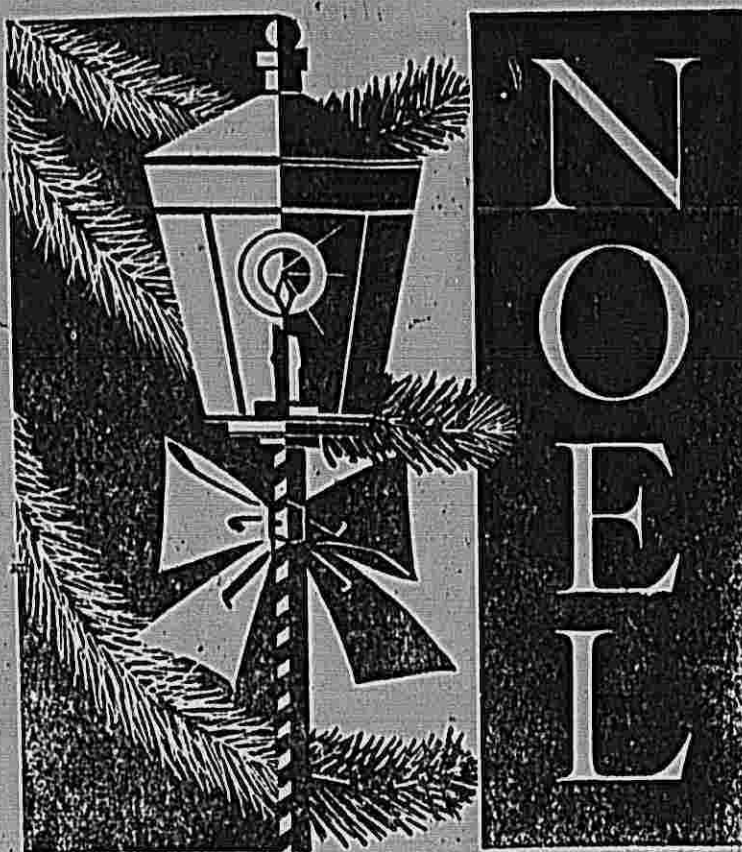

The petticoat can be made quickly with felt and pinking shears. Cut a hole in the middle of the felt and slash from outer edge to fit around the tree. Scallop with pinking shears and decorate.

Story of Wreaths And Advent Candles

A native Christian in New Guinea described Advent thus: "At advent we should try the key to our heart's door. If it may have gathered rust. If so, this is the time to oil it, in order that the heart's door may open more easily when the Lord Jesus wants to enter at Christmas time."

The four Sundays preceding Christmas are observed as Advent Sundays in many churches, with a special emphasis on the Advent, or coming, of the Lord. To remind people of this season several interesting and helpful devices have come into being. The Advent House, generally made of cardboard is so constructed as to make it possible to open a window each day of the Advent weeks and find back of it an appropriate Scripture Verse.

Slightly more elaborate and proportionately more beautiful is the Advent wreath, which is hung at a convenient place and receives a red candle each Advent Sunday and a larger one on Christmas.

In France

In France, after the elders return from midnight mass, it is time for a large feast. The roast goose is popular in some sections of the country. At other sections such things as buckwheat cakes and sour cream, roasted chestnuts served with milk, or turkey and chestnuts served with wine.

We pray for lasting peace at Christmastime and always.
